WELCOME

Welcome to our latest newsletter. Very little seems to have changed economically over the last 12 months and within the horticultural industry things are still a little sluggish and further hindered by the extreme recent weather. It is very easy to be dragged down by all these recent events, but here at Oxford Planters Joinery and Oxford Lawns and Gardens along with our team of joiners and gardeners are determined to maintain our high standards but diversify to secure our future.

We are still excited and passionate about our work have future plans. We welcome you to visit our workshop and office to discuss your requirements and show our new designs, ideas and projects. We are eager to work with you to provide the products you want and the service you need.

DIVERSIFICATION

Over the last year Oxford Planters has been commissioned to design and manufacture a wide range of products. This we have been able to achieve due to the skill of our joiners. As a consequence you may see our associated name 'Oxford Woodworks' which is a trading name of Oxford Planters Ltd as we feel this envelops a wide range of products we now provide. Projects include the bespoke manufacture of windows, doors, conservatory, roof lantern, gates, garage doors and benches.

Above is a recent project commissioned for a house in Cumbria. All external wood products have been manufactured in Accoya and painted in our own spray shop. This project involved the close association with an architect.

RHS CHELSEA FLOWER SHOW 2010

We are delighted to say that we will be at the same site MW/4 for the 2010 Chelsea Flower Show from 18th to the 22nd of May and look forward to seeing you. Increased sales of our Accoya products (modified wood) have prompted us to design and manufacture several new designs which will be launched at the show. We will also be displaying our lead products.

Following our successful Chelsea collaboration with Raymond Evison who achieved another Gold Medal for his stunning display we have been asked to design and manufacture planters for his display this year.
